I have cleaned it and reset the circuit breaker Harley was prompt, very knowledgeable and honest I will use again in the future My Fisher & Paykel dish drawer is 13 years old and the top drawer is leaking. It looks as though the seal is worn out and needs replacing. I would need this task done week starting 12 April if possible First thing in the morning or after 4pmFisher & paykel dishwasher has a fault error which F&P have advised is a compression pump issue. Someone with experience is needed to come and inspect the fault and determine costs associated with repairing. Price is negotiable if it is successfully fixed. I've had the dreaded Fisher & Pykel DishDrawer F1 error code which indicates the flood switch has been triggered. I located the issue to likely be a leak/blockage in the drain pipe and got rid of the excess water in the base of the dishwasher. I can fix many DishDrawer problems myself but this one needs a professional I think.Ruben is really helpful. He seemed to know the ins and outs of my dishwasher and provided the diagnosis for fixing it properly.1. Check that the installation is correct. 2. Secure the machine to the cabinetry as it is tipping forward if the drawers are opened.Replace integrated F&P dishwasher single drawer with new unit. Your instruction book should tell you.Nickname3 years agoAn option for practicing Jews so they are not breaking the rules by doing work on the SabbathMefbj3 years agoYes u can. Did u get the instructions, very easy to follow. Just open the drawer, fill it with your dishes, put detergent in, no tablets. Select wash programme, drying option, then start.DD60DCX7How long should this dish draw last? ThanksDouble DishDrawerMy dishwasher doesn't seem to use the salt or rinse aid I have put in it and the dishes don't come out shiny. Any ideas?Double DishDrawerI have a 2 double draw dishwasher. Is it possible to turn it off mid cycle and if so, how? Mine is currently making a noise and while I turned it off at the main switch it didn't allow me to open the drawerDouble DishDrawethe drying arm error comes up on my top drawer and machine stops. is this going to be a hard/ expensive problem to fix?DD60DAW8Has anybody added a finer filter inside the filter unit, as the big holes in the mesh inside always allow scraps of food into the pump and the pump stops working. I dont understand why the mesh around the sides of the filter are so fine and the mesh inside it is so open.Tom G. 7 months agoDid you find out why there is no inside mesh?Double DishDrawer DD60DAW9I have a brand new fisher and parked model DD60DAW9I first time using bottom drawer a code A3 comes up what does this mean?Mike3 years agoNot a clue...ring F & P...I'm just a purchaser like you!JH3 years agoAs listed page 44 of manual How to attend to a fault:A3 draw cannot drain:Possible cause: The drain hose is blocked or kinked or the connection to drainage pipe may be blocked.What to do:1. Ensure the drainage hose and connection to the pipes are not blocked.2. Press stop once to stop the beeping, and then again to clear the fault.3. Press Start to resume the wash program.DD60DAW8so I have assumed when planning, that y washing machine is a certain depth, but when installed the draining pipe extends the depth by around 30mm. As my laundry it is to fit behind sliding doors I have not accounted for this, is there a side outlet for the pipe. It is a top loader?Mike3 years agoSorry...this is a dishwasher I reviewed, not a washing machine.CheersDD60DCW6The fast wash cycle has changed from 35 minutes in our 4 month old double DVW to 46 minutes why?Cheers Warren12cb PERTH3 years agobelong design engineeringSharran F.2 years agoI think you have also pushed the eco button!Double DishDrawer DD60DAW9Howdy anybody. Before I leave NEGATIVE FEEDBACK on this machine, does anybody else have a problem with these double draw NOT CLEANING properly? We have to wash the dishes before putting them in; even then, on the Normal setting it still doesn't do the job properly with bits of food still stuck to plates & bowls. And we never use the Quick wash option because it's useless. We don't bother using the tablets anymore, because they never dissolve no matter where we put it, so we just use powder. We've had the machine for about 3 months, and the only time it does a proper clean job is on the Heavy setting; and again, that's after washing everything first! It is never overloaded, no pots or pans, just dishes bowls cutlery glasses cups.Are we doing something wrong (aside from spending WAAAAAY too much on this machine)?Any suggestions would be great?Thanks.Ali3 years agoYes exactly the same problems, would not recommend itPeter3 years agoThis usually happens to us when something is stopping the spray arm from rotating, if a knife or something else projects below the rack it stops the arm rotating, the machine goes full cycle but doesnt clean or desolve the cleaning tablet, just check the spray arm rotates.DD60DCX6How do I stop it tipping forward when I open the top draw? There is a space of 4.5 cm between the top of the dddwasher and the bottom of the bench top.valant3 years agoHi Patrick-ours too can tip a bit when the top drawer is really fully loaded especially with big dinner plates etc, with the draw out. I generally unload from the front of the draw and not pull the draw out fully to unload. Of course if the bottom draw is loaded then there is enough weight to ensure it stays put.work back-Hope this helps-it does not affect the performance!glenn63 years agoWe had this problem too but we just got a small block of wood (size of gap) and wedged it in between top of washer and benchtop , pushing it as far back as we could so it wasn't visible and that stopped room for it to tilt worked perfectlyPeter3 years agoOur machine came with fittings to stop this happening, maybe your machines were not installed correctlyhannah-banana3 years agoYou literally have 2 smaller dishwashers, they are totally separate. Eg load one, set to heavy duty, press start. Load the other, set to rinse, press start. You can even install them at opposite ends of the bench (like we did) or even separate rooms - one in the kitchen and one in a walk in pantry.Dee3 years agoHi Lilly, if you have a new model of the dish drawers, you will notice that there is only one set of controls with 4 buttons that are externally shown on the top drawer. If you have this model, all you need to do is press the second button from the left and that will highlighte the drawer you are programming. Once you have programmed both drawers, you can start the cycle.Lily3 years agoThanks heaps, that works. Dee3 years agoYou need to place a tablet or powder in each drawer as they are separate units, there is no transference of water or dishwashing products between the drawershannah-banana3 years agoWe use powder, not tablets - so we don't use as much powder as you would a standard dishwasher. I think the tablets would be too much. But yes, you have to add to both, they are completely separate entities.Jamie3 years agoThank you Dee and hanna-banana. I think I'll go back to powder now as I'll be less expensiveDD60DCX6Can this be installed separately?Dee3 years agoHi Paul, I remember approximately 8 years ago, my husband purchased individual dish drawers to install in units so there is 1 dish drawer (instead of 2) in each unit. I'm not sure if F&P still sell them individually but the unit we have came connected and the bottom drawer has a kick cover and looks different to the top drawer. I don't think that the model we have could be installed side by side.DeeDouble DishDrawerSince the F&P man came and changed the rotor the first time the top drawer of my double dish drawer DD603 goes far longer than the bottom on all washes. Is there a way to reset it back to the old length of cycle?Dee3 years agoHi Meredith,When you open the top drawer, check what cycle it is programmed to and then open your bottom drawer to ensure that they are set to the same cycle. Also check the Eco setting button which impacts the wash time. Other than that, I don't have any other ideas for you.Kind Regards,Deefisher_man3 years agoThere is an upgrade offer available for the 603 from Fisher and Paykel - definitely a saving.Double DishDrawerDishwasher is not completely dissolving powder detergent. Any suggestions?Kathleen H3 years agoI use dishwasher tablets, the model I have has a compartment in the cutlery basket, otherwise just put the tablet in the basket. I use the fairy brand and find they work just as well as finish!Ellena Elizabeth3 years agoI've had the same problem twice in the last month. After running the cycle several times with and dirty dishes I rinsed out the spray arm until water ran through all of the holes freely and it was good to go again. I rinse my dishes well before hand so have been feeling frustrated about this malfunction considering I've been running the dishwasher for less than 6 months and regularly clean the filter.Double DishDrawerWe have just moved into our renovated home and purchased a double drawer Fisher and Paykal dishwasher. When I place the finish tablet in the top draw in the cutlery section and open my dishwasher when it is finished, the tablet is not fully dissolved and my dishwasher's aren't washing properly. Can anyone please suggest what I should do? Should I maybe start using powder in stead of tablets?Ged3 years agoWe have had 18 months of trouble free F&P two drawer dishwasher ,but have only used the powder as recommended in the Guide book. Love our F&P!!Ellena Elizabeth3 years agoSee my answer above. Same problem... same answer.Marsh3 years agoGreat News. I have been using finish powder and my dishwasher is amazing. Love it.Double DishDrawer DD60DAX9Can I use both drawers at same time?Mini3 years agopetal3 years agoYes you can. You need to put dishwashing tablet in each drawer. You can also set them on different cycles alsoPage 6 of 10
